

London Transfusion Practitioner Group Mission Statement 2015

We believe and represent effective and safe transfusion but only after all other options have been considered

We represent patient centred transfusion care for London; exploring and promoting individualised transfusion management plans

We deliver education and training that result in safe and effective transfusion care

We advocate patient information and promote informed valid consent for transfusion; offering expert advice to other staff to allow them to provide a high standard of care when consenting patients for transfusion

We promote the latest research on transfusion for London health care staff

As a Transfusion Practitioner team for London we share new ideas and best practice

We provide support for each other to help facilitate change in practice in challenging roles

We work as the clinical and laboratory interface to promote and facilitate good communication
